SNAKES ALIVE.
THRIVING HONGKONG INDUSTRY.
CHRISTMAS DELICACIES.
How To Be Among The Elite.

Europeans may chaff each other at this time of the year about snakes with pink spots, but the Chinese take the matter quite seriously.

Not because it is the festive season but because it is considered desirable to expunge the "cold wind of the winter" from the system, local Cantonese are having a very busy time at present with snakes, both great and little.

Let it be stated at once that these are not of the rainbow variety but are real reptiles from Kwangtung's wilds.

Reference to the Telephone Co.'s Chinese directory—which is not indexed but is divided according to professions and trades—will show that the purveying of live snakes as a delicacy is a business which commands a respectable turnover annually and gives employment to hundreds of people in the Colony, while the hunters up-country earn enough "in the season" to live comfortably for the whole year.

That which is most prized in a snake is the spleen. In the average snake the spleen is worth at least over $2. The remainder of the live snake fetches something like a dollar. A dead snake has no value at all.

It is not every specimen of snake that is marketable or rather, considered edible. Mainly there are three kinds, all poisonous, which make up the famous Chinese dish of "Three Snake Union." To be in the elite one must be able to speak of the money expended during the cold weather on "Three Snake Spleen."

A telephone order will bring the snake man together with his wares. Usually the snakes, numbering about fifty, are carried in empty flour sacks, but a more progressive merchant has devised a tub for the snakes from which the spleens have been removed.

On a bargain being struck the snake man inserts his hand into a bag and draws forth a snake by its tail. By touching it in a manner which resembles a tickle in the ribs, the vendor can hold the snake with one hand and, simultaneously keep its tail down with his foot. Struggle if it will, the snake cannot move its head back and an expert passing of the hand down the body at once reveals the position of the spleen. A prod with a small, but very sharp, knife and out the spleen squirts into a plate. As each snake is approved of by the customer, so its spleen is removed.

When an equal number has been dealt with from each bag, the sale has been completed. Those that are minus their spleens are put in the tub, for disposal wholesale, to the smaller class of restaurants, which cater for snake delicacies.

Each spleen is at once cleaned and a greenish, slimy liquid extracted from it is poured into a receptacle, stirred up and then emptied into a jar of special brew, samsu. All that is wanted is the greenish liquid and when weighed it is found to be more costly than opium, about half as costly as 100 fine gold-leaf, or about 15 times as valuable as silver. Mixed with the samsu it becomes a beverage which is said to be highly beneficial as it removes the wind from one's system and is, at the same time, a strong stimulant.

Eating-houses of the class mentioned, have a gala menu for the snake season, designated as the "Dragon-Phoenix Union," the snake being described in a fight of fancy, as the dragon and a

THE MARINE SENSATION OF THE YEAR.

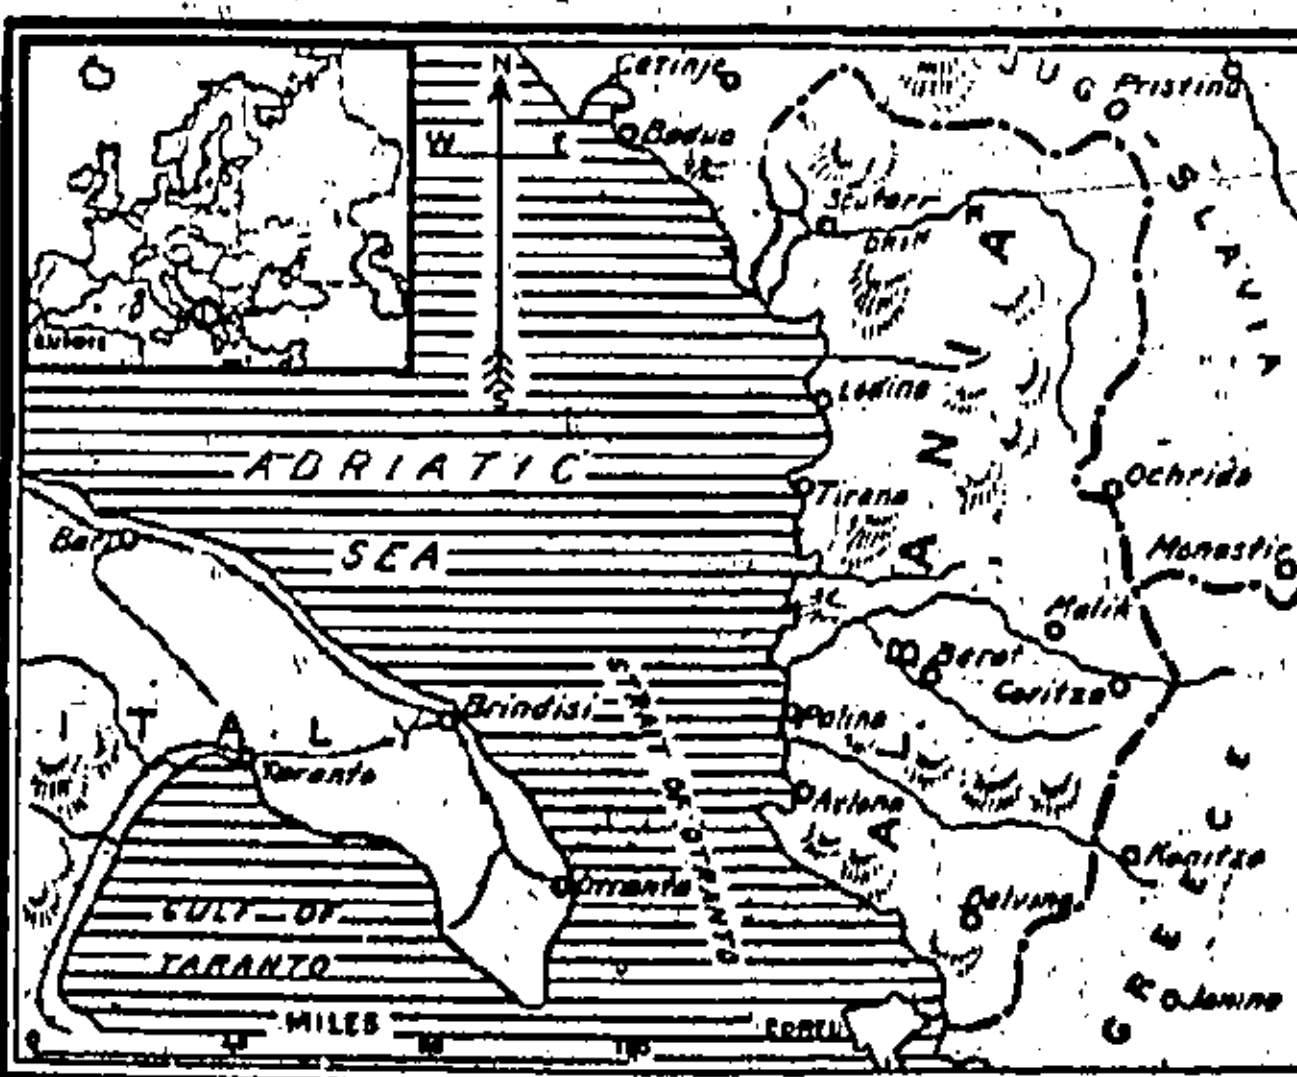

Here is shown the sailless sailing ship, built by the German engineer, Anton Flettner, which has proved the marine sensation of the year. It is shown in Kiel harbour. Instead of sails, Flettner uses two revolving towers, smooth and capped at each end to assure the formation of a perfect vacuum. There is no propeller whatever, but the towers are revolved by a small Diesel engine. Only the position of the towers on the ship and the rudder control its direction of travel. Momentum is given by the pressure of wind from an angle on the revolving towers, whose effective speed is regulated to correspond to the velocity of the wind.

fowl as the phoenix. Decorated appropriately, the shops will put the snakes, which are still alive although minus a vital organ, in cages for display. Great care must be exercised in removing all the bones and those who like it, say that there is no difference in the taste of chicken or snake. Served on the table, the snake meat is beyond recognition. Whittish in colour and torn to shreds, it looks very much like chicken meat and in the maze of condiments, mushroom and bamboo shoots, appears perfectly innocuous.

BYE-ELECTION.
VICTORY FOR LABOUR
AT DUNDEE.
(Reuter's Service.)

LONDON, December 22.
Consequent upon the death of Mr. Morel, on November 13, the bye-election at Dundee resulted in the return of Mr. Johnson (Labour), who received 22,973 votes, against the 10,235 by Sir John Simon (Liberal).

MORE TROUBLE IN EUROPE'S STORM CENTRE.

This map shows the scene of the fighting in the Balkans. Albania is mainly occupied by mountains and high plains. The Albanians are partly Mahomedan, partly Christian. They are not confined to Albania, but are found also in many parts of Greece, and also in Lower Italy, Sicily, Montenegro, Bulgaria, Slavonia, and Dalmatia. Their total number is estimated at below 2,000,000.

ARMED ROBBERIES.
RICE DEALER'S SHOP
RAIDED.

ONE FORT STABBED.

A rice dealer's shop at No. 113, Connaught Road West, ground floor, was entered by armed robbers early this morning while the inmates were asleep. There were six men in the gang, one armed with a revolver and another with a dagger.

A sum of $500 and a deposit receipt for $1,000 were stolen from the safe.

One of the folk, who was awakened by the noise made by the robbers in the course of their search, was stabbed in the leg on the man attempting to raise an alarm.

The incident was reported to the police this morning.

Affair at Ping Chau.
The police have received information of another armed robbery committed at Ping Chau. No details are available at the moment.

BROKERS PLEASED.

GOOD SETTLEMENT DAY.

PRICES REMAIN HIGH.

"Bears" And A Drop Of Ten Points.

Armed with cheque-books, transfer deeds and share scrip, Hong-kong brokers generally deserted Ice House Street this morning to carry out "Settlement Day."

There being no secret that the December settlement would be unusually big, brokers, clerks, runners, jobbers and everybody who claims to be anybody in the sphere of "stocks and shares," were down to their offices early this morning.

Instead of holding impromptu conferences in "Brokers' Alley" as is their usual custom, one and all were speeding backwards and forwards as fast as three-piece-men richies could carry them. At 10.30 there were the usual daily meetings but it seemed generally conceded that there would be no sensations in the official quotations. Without exception, everybody was busy getting the settlement through.

Talk having been heard that certain persons would be hard pressed, a "China Mail" reporter set out to inquire if any sensations would be forthcoming. Several brokers, unwillingly stopping their richies, gave out that as far as they knew, the parties concerning whom anxiety had been felt, had been well prepared for contingencies. However, the feature that pleased most of the brokers was that shares which had reached extraordinarily high levels, had stayed high; and that other stocks which they badly wanted to rise had duly appreciated in value.

Four weeks back it had been hinted that unless the prices of certain shares climbed considerably, those who had bought forward for December settlement, would be hard hit. Apparently, these shares had gone up. The other stocks which had "jumped up" and had given cause for anxiety had also come along in style and, to-day, were reported to be finishing strongly.

Asked to give his opinion as to what shares commanded the most attention, a broker who fortunately for the reporter had missed his richie coolie and therefore consented to fall into stride, said that Cements (combined) were firm at $26 and were considered to be worth that—if not a higher figure—on their merits. "Star" Ferries, he mentioned, were done at $130 and "Trams" at $56 for January. "Bears" was the laconic explanation he gave in reply to a query by the uninitiated as to why a certain stock had dropped ten points in a day, but he added that the position was now normal.

At this stage the missing coolie arrived. Realising it was a final opportunity, the reporter asked whether the volume for to-day would be a record. As an excuse for breaking away, the broker replied, "Do you think brokers have nothing better to do than to compile comparative statistics? Merchants have the Imports and Exports Department to look to and you might get a comparison by trying the Stamp Office if you want to work out a graph." As a parting shot, he ventured, "If December does not beat last October's record, it will at least equal it." "Approximately, how much?" the reporter queried.

Having gone some distance, the broker called back, "Oh, millions and millions," and disappeared round the Hotel corner.

Later in the morning, another leading broker was called upon and his reply was that if anybody was looking for sensations he would be disappointed. Preparations behind the scenes had dispelled much of the concern with such a thing as a "possible carry-over here and there," he thought that the settlement would pass through satisfactorily. He mentioned that a part of the big volume was attributable to "carry-overs" from the October settlement and that most of the business for settlement to-day, was transacted two, if not three, months ago. There might be one or two who might not like the way in which "Hotels" had moved but even here there was no cause for alarm.

In conclusion, he informed the reporter that with a buoyant spirit and firm under-tone in the whole market, prospects were exceptionally bright for the beginning of next year.

SHANGHAI MURDER MYSTERY.

Facing much the same problems as Shanghai faces in coping with crime, Hongkong has been little less startled than the Northern Settlement by the brutal murder of Miss Olesen, the Danish lady who was done to death in her Bubbling Well home last Tuesday.

Fortunately such tragic events are as rare in Shanghai as they are in Hongkong. Usually the motive is robbery, but in the present instance the motive, it seems, must be found in something else. Discussing the grim details of the crime, with a view to drawing any lessons therefrom that may prove helpful to the community, the "China Press" notes, as one of the facts that must be put on record, that certain servants were dismissed a day or so before the crime. However, as the Shanghai paper adds, it would be unfair and unsafe to deduce from this fact that these servants had anything to do with the matter, in the absence of more direct evidence, since mere dismissal seems the slightest of all possible motives for murder. According to the "China Press," the unfortunate woman appears to have gone to the back door to see someone who called, and it would not seem impossible to conclude, either that she had locked the back premises in the absence of the servants, or that the caller was, if the door were unlocked, a stranger. However, the use of the back door suggests that the visitor may have been a Chinese, for a foreigner entering through the servants quarters would render himself somewhat conspicuous to servants in other houses, some of whom would be likely to be about at that time of the day. On the other hand foreign mendicants are sometimes known to make their calls at back doors. Still further mystery is added owing to the information that the victim had been nervous for some time previously and had on occasions sought to obtain a police whistle, all of which seems to point to a stranger having been the culprit. For had she been disquieted by reason of her own servants, it seems inconceivable that she would have retained them in her employ. Coming to the conclusion that while the murder cannot be classified as an armed robbery, it is symptomatic of the times, through which we are passing, the "China Press" observes that although it is not possible for the individual to be always on the lookout for disaster, it is nevertheless possible for everyone to take certain precautions which may have the effect of preventing crimes. For example in a certain foreign home in the French Concession it had been the custom for the servants to admit callers to the front vestibule of the house while the servant went to inform his employer that a caller had arrived. A few days ago when the servant returned to the front door he found the caller had departed and with the caller all of the clothing hanging on the hooks in the front hall. This is only another example of how householders have but themselves to thank sometimes for such crimes, and the moral is, whether it is murder or robbery that is feared, no precaution is too small, for it is useless to lock the stable door after the horse has been stolen.

Hongkong's Schools.

Expressions of opinion contained in the sermons of the Rev. J.
Kirk Macdonald have led in the past to interesting controversies, and it is unlikely that certain passages in a sermon delivered by him in the Union Church on Sunday morning will pass without comment from representatives in the local educational world of those whose work is connected with schools and colleges in Hongkong who cater for Chinese youths of well-to-do parents. Although it is sometimes misleading to take isolated sentences away from their context, Mr. Macdonald, in the course of an appeal for the New Territories Inland Mission with which his Church is connected, certainly left the impression that it was his opinion that China would benefit to a considerably greater extent if the money, which is now being employed in cities like Victoria on the education of Chinese youths who can afford to pay for a secondary school education, was devoted to work among the poorer classes in inland China.
The retort which would spring to the tongue of many would be that as most of the educational institutions to which Mr. Macdonald referred are under the wing of missionary societies, the remedy would appear to be largely in the hands of ministers of the Gospel whose voices surely must carry weight in the councils of such organisations. The case of Mr.
Macdonald would appear to be a little different, however, for if our memory serves us correctly, the only schools in the Colony maintained by the Missionary society with which he is most intimately connected by reason of his denomination (the London Missionary Society) is the Ying Wa school, the boys' section of which was recently given up through financial reasons. This does cater for the poorer classes and so Mr.
Macdonald's opinion would appear to be directed against schools supported by organisations of other denominations. He was careful to make it clear that he did not make the remarks with any idea of detracting from the good work which these schools did, and if controversy is raised there is no reason why bitterness should creep into it; frank interchange of opinion, however, by those who have had experience would be of interest to many.

Corner-Kick Surprise.

Local football enthusiasts will have read with surprise of the sensational incident which occured on November 15, in the game between Woolwich Arsenal and Everton in the first division of the League. Chedzoy, of Everton, taking advantage of the recent alterations in the rules, which fail to define the corner-kick as a free-kick, dribbled the ball on his own from the corner flag, instead of kicking it once only, in the manner in which all corner and freekicks have had to be taken in the past.
Previously, when a corner-kick was taken the player taking it was debarred from touching the ball again until some other player had kicked it. The ball was usually kicked from the corner flag into the mouth of the goal. During the summer, the International Board altered the law to allow a goal to be scored direct from a corner-kick, whether or not it was touched by a second player. In altering the law, the Board deleted that part of it which kept the corner-kick under the same restriction as the ordinary free-kick. Doubtless the omission was unintentional, but as Chedzoy was not pulled up by the referee, it is to be presumed the new law admits of similar interpretation by other footballers. Once the surprise element of this new departure has been overcome, however, there is little material advantage to be gained from it, since the opposition will detail a player to "mark" the man taking the corner-kick.

FOOTBALL.

SURREYS BEAT KOWLOON RESIDENTS.

[By "Dutchie."]

This game was played at Kowloon yesterday, before a very large crowd, the majority of whom were Servicemen.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Kowloon Residents:—Beach, Wheeler, Wynne, Mair, McKelvie, Duncan, Clemo, Howard, Jones, Rocha, Brown.

Surreys:—Douglas, Cooper, Jordan, Patter, Mitchell, Bristowe, Charlesworth, Eaton, Humberstone, Butler, Macklesworth.

After McKelvie had won the toss, Mr. R. M. Dyer started the game, and fairly even exchanges took place until a miskick let Humberstone through, but Beach managed to save, and the Kowloon left going down Rocha finished a nice piece of work by sending behind. A few minutes later saw Jones through and what seemed a certain goal was nullified by the player concerned treading on the ball when about to shoot. Cooper cleared with a hefty kick and the Surreys right getting away, Charlesworth sent over a lovely centre for Humberstone to beat Beach, the ball going between the latter's legs.
Encouraged by the shouts of their supporters, who now they had got one goal wanted more, the Surreys forwards again attacked, and Macklesworth forced a corner off Wheeler. This was cleared by McKelvie after Eaton had sent in a very hot one that the former just managed to stop. Later Macklesworth hit the side of the net with one of his favourite oblique shots. The Surreys were having most of the game, but there was not a lot of energy being wasted. Eaton handled close, in and Wheeler taking the kick sent to Jones; the latter winged the ball to Brown who beat both Patter and Cooper and scored, the ball going over Douglas's head.

Half-time: One goal each.

Give and take played open the second half for a time, until Macklesworth tried a nice run down the left and shot. Beach saved, but sent to Eaton who was in front of goal. What should have been a certain goal was nullified by Eaton punching the ball down. Later Macklesworth again sent in a fine centre that Butler ballooned over. The Sur-reys' shooting at this juncture was very poor; otherwise they could not have failed to increase their score from the chances presented to them. The Kowloon forwards now got moving and Clemo sent in a nice centre.
Jones with only Douglas to beat sent straight at the goal.
McKelvie received from the clearance and just missed the upright with a hard grounder. Brown forced a corner off Cooper, but sent the free-kick behind. Play being transferred, Wynne sent behind when being hard pressed by Eaton and Charlesworth; the latter took the kick and Bristowe headed over. The Surreys renewed the attack and Beach saved from Humberstone, but the player, not to be denied, came again. Beach got to the ball and kicked clear, but the referee awarded a goal, the ball evidently going over the line.
Time was now getting short and Kowloon played all they knew to equalise, but Jordan and Cooper kept them out, although the latter was limping badly. In the last minute of the game, a nice piece of contribution between Charlesworth and Eaton saw the latter score the third goal from twelve yards out. Result: Surreys, 3; Kowloon Residents, 1.

COMMENT ON GAME.

There was not two goals difference between the teams, but whereas the Surreys took advantage of all opportunities, the Kowloon forwards missed some very good chances. Jones in particular was very weak in his shooting. Eaton was good, as also were Macklesworth and Humberstone. Charlesworth did not play his usual game. The defence was good, but they seemed inclined to take the Kowloon forwards too cheaply. In the Kowloon defence, Wheeler and Duncan showed up conspicuously; the latter having plenty to do looking after Eaton. None of the forwards were brilliant, although at times the left wing gave some exhibitions of that combination they are noted for.
Mr. F. Smith had charge of the game.

XMAS CARD.

A TOPICAL ESSAY.

(By Gladys Kilby.)

The Christmas card, in common with many other inanimate objects, has a varying significance.

To the bachelor it is either a nuisance or a discreet form of valentine; to the benedict it is the atrophy he finds on the maltreatment of his mother-in-law conveying lying sentiments under a forged signature (his own); to the lonely it spells the magic word, Friend; to the profiteer it represents 'Business, good or bad according to the status of the recipient or donor thereof; and so on ad infinitum.

The reality of the Christmas card is understood only by children, and because there will always be children, so will the Christmas card never really die. The triumphant discovery of the shop-"where you can get ha'penny ones!" the laborious hours of choosing when the "shop-lady" kindly looked the other way, the final allotment of the swallows to Uncle Joseph, the horse-shoe to Susan, and the frosted snow-scene to Nancy, the painful addressing of envelopes, the unfortunate appearance of a forgotten great-aunt, the unwritten and taut law of "pencil only" and the rich harvest reaping all such careful preparation—the small child the Christmas card means all these things.

To the grown-up child the Christmas card also has many compensations, and many a whimsical folly has been committed in that exasperating and exhilarating last half-hour on Christmas Eve just before the shops shut. It is so infinitely tempting to dispatch that bunch of forget-me-nots to a creditor, that true-lover's-knot to the couple next door who are separating next month, and the black cat singing upon the tiles to the lady whose feline you surreptitiously disposed of the week before last.
It is, alas! a madness which passes with the putting up of the shop shutters, and the coming of that silver streak in your hair—unless you happen to be one of the delightful Elect who are never afraid of doing foolish things; in which case of course the gods love you and you will die young.

The Christmas card is an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace, whatever may be said by its enemies, and in this material world it is just as well to encourage its humble presence. Behind the cupboard love which, to the cynical, may sometimes seem to lurk in such a token of remembrance, there may lie hidden a whole wealth of inarticulate affection. He who would not dare to express himself in Christmas card language may hide his real self within that folded square of cardboard.

There are so many lean robins in this hungry world that it is nice to know plump ones exist, even if only pictorially; there are so many motor-cars and cinemas, so much telephoning and broadcasting that it does us good once in a while to have a private,

Notwithstanding the reiterated summons of the leaders, no more than 5,000 Communists attended an open air demonstration, compared with 30,000 at a meeting in July last. They dispersed quietly, without any incident, says a Havas Agency message from Paris.

The "China Mail" has received a most useful pocket Diary and Almanack for 1925 from the P. & O. and British India Companies. It contains in addition information of the great value to the traveller along the routes covered by the two Companies' ships.

The Prime Minister of Australia, Mr. Stanley M. Bruce, says a Melbourne cable refused to comment upon the American Congressman, Mr. Britten's proposal for an international conference of white nations bordering the Pacific. Another Federal Minister said that Australia would refuse to participate. She wished to live at peace with her neighbours.

The art exhibition at the V.R.C. terminated with a fancy dress carnival which was well attended, and a delightful evening was spent dancing to the strains of the "President Pierce's" band. During the evening the pictures which were presented to the Club were raffled for the benefit of the Hongkong Benevolent Society and a good sum was realised. The draw resulted as follows:—First prize, No. 004 Mr. W. Ward; Second prize, No. 230 (Unclaimed); Third prize, No. 231 Mr. Shibahara; Fourth prize, No. 122 (Unclaimed); Fifth prize, No. 297 Mr. P. Ramsay. Prizes may be had on presentation of tickets at the V.R.C.

At Wong Nei Chong Road yesterday, a Chinese earth coalie was knocked over by a truck which he was bringing down the hill along with others. In the fall the man sustained injuries to one of his legs, and he is now an inmate at the Government Civil Hospital.

Non-local signals for a typhoon, to the south of the Paracels and Maclesfield Bank, have been hoisted at Hongkong. Details are:—Lat. 14 N., Long. 114 E., moving West. It is believed that a centre of low depression exists down there, near the half-way between Hongkong and Singapore. Coupled with the monsoon, it is likely to prove very disagreeable to shipping.

In Pennyfields, about 100 Chinese, now naturalized Britons, are voters. Mr. T. B. Hoste, who has lived 15 years in China, canvassed them on behalf of Mr. Heathcote Williams, Liberal candidate for Poplar South. Mr. Hoste's appeal in Chinese would read in English:—"The gentleman whom I have the honour to assist is supremely and without question the most sincere, the most honourable and in all ways the most beneficent man it is possible for his humble servants to assist. A man who, with lack of humility, has the temerity to offer himself in opposition to the All-Highest is a man totally unworthy of your respectful and affectionate support. He, our master (Mr. Williams), is a man who will join his forefathers in the Promised Land. He is a man whose foot is at the bottom of the ladder which may lead to universal renown and to the glory of both you and all with whom he is associated."

No papers will be published in England on Christmas Day or Boxing Day.

Knocked down by a tramcar at Des Voeux Road Central, a Chinese received several injuries and had to be taken to the Government Civil Hospital.

The theft of a sum of $200 some time between Sunday evening and 7 p.m. yesterday is reported by Mr. H. Hancock, occupying room No. 576 at the Hongkong Hotel.

A fire broke out in one of the sheds of the Kowloon Godowns last evening shortly after 5 o'clock. The Brigade arrived promptly and soon extinguished the outbreak. The fire originated in some cases of sulphuric acid, which made the work of the fire-fighters a rather difficult one. The damage is estimated at about $100.

Sentence of three months' hard labour was meted out at the Central Magistracy yesterday to a Chinese who attempted to extort money by menaces. This was the incident reported in yesterday's issue of the "China Mail" in which the harmless looking person picked out as the victim turned out to be a police detective.

From far-off Chengtu way up in the centre of China's interior, a bulky missive addressed the "China Mail Western News Society" has arrived. It is a notification to politicians, military commanders, special and temporary conventions etc., and others, by Lau Sing-fun who styles himself as the Director of Frontier Defence of Szechuan province.

No further news has been received regarding the s.s. "Haiphong," which as reported on Saturday, left Quinhon on December 3, for Tourane, and had been posted as overdue. She had several hundred tons of inflammable cargo on board and shipmasters have been asked to keep a look-out. It is known that she had rudder trouble prior to arrival at Quinhon. Years ago the "Haiphong" used to trade between the port of the same name and Hongkong but she has not visited this Colony for some time.

Prof. J. B. Taylor, the Director of the Economics Department of Yen Ching University, returning from his trip to England and India, is expected in Peking this week. For three months, in India, he has been studying the methods and results of the India Institute of Economic Research.

Dr. Colbert, who during his visit to America, married Mrs. Leech, late of Tientsin, is understood to be returning to Tientsin shortly to resume practice. It was reported some months ago that he had bought a practice in California, and had said good-bye to China, but the plan has changed.

Mr. R. F. Young, who has been acting as accountant of the Hongkong branch of the American Express Co., left for his home in Berkeley, California, via Europe by the Dollar liner "President Monroe" yesterday. Mr. Young intends to make a stay in Europe, visiting France, England and Scotland.

The St. Stephen's College Old Boys' Association have engaged a Chinese theatrical troupe, who will give performances in the New Chinese Theatre this month in aid of the new college building fund.

Dr. A. H. Woods, of the Peking Union Medical College, who is now in America, plans to sail from New York about the middle of next month for Liverpool and is due to arrive in Munich early in February, where he will stay until the end of May. Dr. and Mrs. Woods are expected to return to Peking, accompanied by some of their family, in the summer of next year.

The Chinese Club held a reception on Saturday to celebrate its move into its present commodious premises in the Bank of Canton building. Over two hundred members attended and among the guests were the Hon. Mr. Chow Shou-sen and Mr. Liang Shih-yi, a former Premier of China. Mr. H. K. Hung, the President, proposed the continued prosperity of the Club in felicitous terms and briefly reviewed its history.

An interesting presentation ceremony took place at the Bank of Canton on Wednesday last, when Mr. A. G. W. Ogilvie, of the firm of Messrs. Palmer and Turner, was presented by the Bank's Board of Directors, with a handsome and massive silver mandarin cup, as a mark of appreciation for his work in connection with the erection of the Bank's new premises. The presentation was made by the Acting Chairman, Mr. Li Po-kwai, who paid a high tribute to the recipient's painstaking ability. Mr. Ogilvie appropriately acknowledged the gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner, late of Peking, had a very rough time of it before they were safely installed in H.B.M. Consulate at Tientsin, says the "Eastern Times." The railway trip from Tientsin to Tsingtau took 22 hours and was very unpleasant. At one point a troop train full of hungry troops, who had nothing with them but no means of cooking them, stopped the passenger train for four hours while they impressed the dining-car cook and his assistants into their service and got them to cook a hot meal for the whole battalion.

Gen. Chen Yao-san, former commander of the Fourth Chékang Army Division, which fought under Gen. Lu Yung-hsiang, former Tapan of Chékang, against Marshals Chi Hsieh-yuan and Sun Chuan-fang, has been appointed by Marshal Tuan Chi-chang Commander-in-Chief of the Chékang forces, reports the Chinese press. Gen. Chen, who arrived in Shanghai from Tientsin by the str. "Hsinming," has been in conference with Gen. Ho Feng-ling and Gen. Chang Yuan-ming, former and present Defence Commissioners of Shanghai and Sungkiang, and is said to have gathered together some 2,000 of his old troops, who will be sent to Tientsin for Gen. Lu's new army.

A burglar broke into the house of the British Consul-General at Kobe, Mr. R. G. E. Forster, in the early morning hours of December 2; reports the "Japan Chronicle." Mr. Forster was awakened by the barking of his dog, and went downstairs immediately but found that the thief had already flown after making a search of two rooms, and rifling Mrs. Forster's desk. A loss which is keenly regretted is that of a medal awarded to Mr. Forster's son, who was killed on active service in the European war. A gold wristlet watch and a sum of Yen 20 were also taken. The robber had apparently obtained admittance by breaking a glass panel in an outside door and so manipulating the latch. It is "puzzling" to know how this was done without disturbing the household. The home of Mr. H. S. G. Litt, on the Hill, was also entered several days previously, but the thieves were apparently disturbed, and left without any loot. No arrests have yet been made in connection with these incidents.

PEAK SCHOOL.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES
YESTERDAY.

A large gathering assembled at the Peak Club yesterday evening to witness the distribution of prizes to the pupils of the Peak School by Lady Severn.

The prize distribution was preceded by a thoroughly enjoyable entertainment by the pupils. The programme comprised recitations in English and French, dances, and a French playlet, entitled "Les Poulpiciens." A fan dance by the Misses Reid, Birss, Goodfellow and McElderry was well rendered, as also the recitations, "The Winds," by Miss Muriel Gubbly, and "Wishes," by Miss Ailsa Morrison. The careful training of the children by Madame Moussion was shown in the French playlet and in the French recitation by Miss Joan Reid entitled "Le Corbeau et le Renard."

REPORT FOR YEAR.

The annual report of the headmistress, Mrs. P. Y. Stark, which was read by Mr. E. F. Aucott, was as follows:

The school year began with 54 pupils, and, despite a large exodus in March, the numbers kept up until the Autumn. The decrease in numbers then was due to fever and colds. Many children were away ill, even at the end of the Summer term. The average attendance for the year was 45.56.

Throughout the year a great many changes in staff took place. Miss Gravenor joined us on January 7, and was transferred to Kowloon Junior School on April 1. Miss Cooper went on Home leave in February, returned in September and was appointed Headmistress to Kowloon Junior School. Miss Peck was appointed Kindergarten Mistress to replace Miss Hazeland who went on Home leave in April, returned in October, and resigned. Mrs. Lucy was transferred to Kowloon Junior School in September and Miss Anderson was appointed to take her place. On November 4, Miss Kennedy was appointed as Kindergarten Mistress.

During the Summer and Autumn terms many children were absent with fever. There were three very serious cases, two of typhoid and one of typhus. We are glad to say all three made splendid recoveries and are back at school again. There was no medical inspection throughout the year.

A complete overhaul of the roof took place during the Summer vacation and now it no longer leaks.

Steps are being made down to the new Peak playground. This will greatly relieve the congestion in our small school playground and will give easy access to an excellent place for recreation. A very pleasant afternoon was passed at "Tanderege," where the annual school sports were held. Our grateful thanks are extended to Sir Claud and Lady Severn for this entertainment.

Very satisfactory results were shown at both Midsummer and end of term examinations. Also, very good reports have come from Home of the children who left us during the year and are now at school in England.

Discipline has been well maintained and I would like to take this opportunity of thanking the Staff for their very willing help throughout the year.

At the conclusion of the prize distribution, Miss Valerie Birss presented Lady Severn with a bouquet of chrysanthemums.

The prize list was as under:

Class 6.—Form Prize, Peter Yates; French Prize, Peter Yates; Scripture Prize, Peter Yates; Drawing Prize, Valerie Birss; General Proficiency, Valerie Goodfellow; Special Prize, Joan Reid.

Class 7.—Form Prize, Alec Mackintosh; General Proficiency, Charles Mackie.

Class 8.—Form Prize, Jack Shaw; General Proficiency, Marion Lane; Kathleen McElderry, Muriel Gubbly, Jack Davidson, John Owen-Hughes, George Apear and Ian Aucott; Writing Prize, Rita Hawker.

Infants A.—General Proficiency, Ailsa Morrison, Mary Dunn, Diana Hollands, Noreen Cooper, Evelyn Morrison, Kenneth Griffin, Wallace Ironside, and Patrick Cole.

Infants B.—General Proficiency, Audrey Newhouse, Patricia Cooper, Alison McKay, Jonny Spit, Colin Ironside, Malloch Stark, and David Crook.

ELLERMAN LINER.

S.S. "CITY OF MANDALAY" LAUNCHED.

UNIQUE CEREMONY.

London, November 19.—Built for the City Line of the Ellerman Lines, Ltd., Liverpool, the "City of Mandalay," a steel single-screw steamer, was successfully launched by Swan, Hunter, and Wigham Richardson, Ltd., Wallsend Yard, yesterday, the christening ceremony being performed by Mrs. W. Mark Pybus. The owners were represented by Captain Black and Mr. R. T. C. Hassell, and the builders by Mr. T. E. Thirlaway (vice-chairman), Mr. C. S. Swan, Mr. G. B. Richardson, Colonel E. W. R. Pinkney, and Mr. C. E. Hunter (directors), and Mr. N. M. Hunter (general manager, Wallsend Shipyard).

Among those present were Mrs. R. T. C. Hassell, Mrs. T. E. Thirlaway, Mr. W. M. Pybus, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bonnin, Mrs. E. W. R. Pinkney, Mr. and Mrs. Winstanley, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pybus, Mrs. F. C. Garrett, and others.

The "City of Mandalay's" leading dimensions are 443 ft. by 57 ft. 6 in., by 34 ft. 4 in. She has a cruiser-shaped stern, a 43 ft. 6 in. long poop, and combined bridge and forecastle about 30 ft., 6 in. long, and is rigged as a two-masted fore and aft schooner. The ship has been built to the highest class at Lloyd's, and designed to carry about 1,250 tons on reasonable draft. There are five cargo holds, with five large hatchways leading to same, and 18 steel cargo derricks, together with 17 steam winches, steam fire extinguishing pipes fitted in all holds, tweep decks, and bunkers. Oil fuel, in addition to water ballast, is carried in the double bottom. There is also a deep tank abait the engine-room. Steam steering gear is placed in the poop, and a steel house amidships provides accommodation for officers, apprentices, and stewards, and above this is a steel house with the captain's room and chart room, the engineers being berthed in steel houses abreast the engine casing. The ship is lighted throughout by electricity, and the accommodation is steam-heated. Amidships will be placed the engines, built by the Wallsend Shipway and Engineering Co., Ltd., and these are of the inverted direct-acting triple-expansion type, with three cranks driving a single propeller, and also the three single-ended boilers arranged for working with Howden Ljungstrom air pre-heaters, and fitted with super-heaters for a working pressure of 225 lbs. per square inch.

BUILDERS' TWENTY-FIFTH.

Tea was served in the board-room, and Mr. T. E. Thirlaway, vice-chairman, who presided, proposed the toast, "Success to the vessel and her owners," and said the vessel was the twenty-fifth which his firm had built at that yard for the Ellerman Company, and he thought she would be equal, if not superior, to those already built. Sir John Ellerman was not with them, because it was quite an unusual thing for him to attend launches of his ships. If he did attend launches, he would be doing little else, but he had great responsibilities in his many businesses which prevented him from attending functions.

He was sure, however, that Sir John was with them in spirit, for he (Mr. Thirlaway) did not know of any shipowner who had such a grasp of detail and such a wonderful knowledge of shipbuilding. He took the keenest possible interest in every detail of his vessels.

Mr. Thirlaway presented Mrs. Pybus with a silver casket, and said the launching ceremony was unique, as it was the first time at which they had an official launching of an Ellerman vessel, the others having been put into the water without any fuss.

Captain Black replied on behalf of the owners, and complimented the builders on the excellence of the vessel. He had been connected with the Ellerman Lines since 1865, when a vessel of 1,200 tons was a very big ship indeed. He considered that Messrs. Swan and Hunter had contributed very largely to the big advance that had been made in building up the Ellerman Lines. He endorsed what had been said in regard to Sir John's business abilities, and wished the builders every success, and hoped that ere long the tide would turn for shipbuilders and shipowners, and every shipyard berth would be filled.

Mr. W. Mark Pybus replied on behalf of his wife.

The Chinese press contains a further report that Dr. Alfred Sze (Chinese Minister to the United States) will be re-appointed to the Court of St. James's and that Dr. W. Yen (former acting Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs) will be appointed to succeed Dr. Sze in Washington. It is also reported that Mr. Wang Yung-pao has resigned from his position as Chinese Minister to Japan, and that Mr. Hu Wei-teh (former Minister) has been ordered to proceed to Tokyo to succeed him.

STUDENT ARTISTES.

CONCERTS FOR ST.
STEPHEN'S SCHOOL.

EXCELLENT RESULTS.

To help in the raising of funds for the new school which is to be built on Stanley Peninsula, the boys of St. Stephen's College gave a concert in the main hall of St. Stephen's Girls' School yesterday evening. There was a large attendance. As a great many of the tickets for the continuation concert to be given to-night have already been sold it is confidently anticipated that between two and three thousand dollars will be raised as a result of the boys' efforts.

The hit of the evening was the Chinese play entitled "Too Late," the second part of which will be given to-night. In both this and the shorter play "Hepecked" the boys showed what to many must have been amazing powers of dramatic characterisation.

The programme consisted of:—Welcome, Junior School; Chinese music, Mr. Yau-Hok-chau; "Hepecked" (a short play), the present students; ventriloquism, Mr. Arrowsmith; songs, Mrs. D. J. Brown; Chinese dancing, Chin Woo Club; songs, Mr. A. B. Glanville; Chinese song, Mr. Yau-Hok-chau and Mr. Lau (Chun-on); "Too Late" (a play), the present students.

The following took part in the play "Too Late":—Yung Chai-hung, San Tze-sin, Chung Yee-fun, Pun Tso-yam, Cho Shiu-yau, Lam Kin-cheung, Ip Wing-ko, Li Kam-tong, Chang Mo-tong, Ho Hong-ping, Chan Hon-san, Lai Kwok-kin, Lo Shun-mo; Director, Wong Hak-king.

"ROBIN HOOD" SEQUEL.

CORONET THEATRE
ATTRACTION.

The impression made by "Robin Hood," with Douglas Fairbanks, and Wallace Beery, amongst others, was immense. Now we are to have the sequel to that fine film in "Richard, the Lion-Hearted" which is showing at the Coronet Theatre. There will be no Douglas Fairbanks, but the principal part will be taken by Wallace Beery as the King. That is sufficient. Wallace was the King in the previous film, and a regular lion-hearted king he was. Sets rivaling those of "Robin Hood" in lavishment will be shown; priceless furs, potteries from Palestine; furniture of ebony and mother-of-pearl; jewelled mirrors; combs and chests; specially designed costumes of silks, satins, brocades and furs—these are but a few of the things brought into the theatre. In some of the big fight scenes a reproduction of the town of Joppa, Palestine, was erected. The story itself takes up the thread of the adventures of the great King Richard from the time he left England until his return, and completes the historical representation of the famous period of the Third Crusade. Here is a picture which is educational, thrilling, and glorious, all in one.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

THRILL OF LIFETIME
PROMISED.

Quite a lot of noise was made concerning "One Week of Love" before it reached the Queen's Theatre where it was shown for the first time yesterday. The noise, however, is but a tempest in the proverbial tea-pot to the devastating explosions that will now greet the film. It has, like Barnum and Bailey's Circus, everything; in fact, it has a great deal more than the particular circus mentioned. Certainly, the tent-show, has no such delectable persons as Elaine Hammerstein amongst its personnel. It promises the thrill of a lifetime.

"One Week of Love" is the sort of story you want to tell all your movie-mad friends about.

Aurora, Ill., December 22.

The night air-mail from Chicago to Omaha crashed last night in a snowstorm.

A fragment of the parachute was still attached to the dead man's belt.

XMAS ARCADE.

NOVELTY AT WHITEWAYS.

A Christmas Arcade is something new to Hongkong shops but the one which has been so tastefully arranged just inside the main entrance to Messrs. Whiteway, Ltd., does not stop short at mere novelty. The stalls and shelves on either side of the gaily decorated archway from which dangle invitingly mysterious Xmas stockings, dolls and other things of delight are stocked with articles as varied in price and character as in novelty.

As of course, it is to be expected of Messrs. Whiteway, Ltd., the line in gentlemen's presents is a comprehensive one and no lady should have difficulty in choosing something smart and serviceable from the articles on display. And whilst at the establishment the fair shopper would be well advised to look at the chair covers, cushions and other such domestic indispensables which are stocked in pleasing variety, the latest conceptions in design being amongst them.

The report that a human head had been discovered lying on the beach at Tanjong Katong, Singapore, gave rise to a prosecution in the Police Courts, when Mr. D. M. Grant, a Tanjong Katong resident, was charged with failing to report the discovery of a body to the police. It transpired that Mr. Grant had been informed that there was a body in front of his house. He examined the spot indicated by his boy and found a body but saw a head. He gave instructions to his gardener to report the matter to the police, but nothing happened, so he reported the matter personally the next morning. Inspector Cronin said that when a search was made for the body or the head, which they had been told, had been freshly severed, they could find no trace of either. After evidence had been recorded, His Worship cautioned and discharged Mr. Grant.

GOLF.

HOW TO APPROACH WITH SUCCESS.

J. H. Taylor, five times Golf Champion, writes in the "News of the World" for November 16:— I have long held the view that to be known as a consistently accurate approach player is one of the most desirable reputations any golfer can enjoy. I have said many times before that long driving, whilst conferring on the individual a sense of superiority over his fellows, does not contribute a great deal towards happiness when the playing of a hole is finished. When a ball is teed up, the hole is the real objective, and whether the drive be long or short, there is no escaping the approach shot. It is the link between the drive and the putt, and if the link be weak, the whole chain is rendered untrustworthy.

TICKETING THROAT.
Did you ever have that nerve-racking experience caused by a bit of mucus or phlegm that stubbornly refuses to be dislodged, but tickles and tickles until it sometimes almost strangles? Just a few sips of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, swallowed very slowly and allowed to glide down the throat, will stop that tickle and at once give you immense relief. Try it that way too for hoarseness, bronchitis and other coughs.

HONGKONG TIDE.

The tide-table given below has been compiled at the National Almanac Office in London from the result of the analysis of observations taken by means of an automatic tide-recording machine in the Water Police Basin at Tsim Sha Teui during the years 1908-9.
The zero of the table corresponds with the zero of the sounding in the Admiralty Chart, which has been found to be 4 feet 3 inches below mean sea-level.
To obtain the depth of water on the tide gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 3 feet 4 inches, and on the gauge at Lamont Dock, Aberdeen, add 10 feet 4 inches to the height given in the table.

December 22 to 26, 1924.
